Sunday Reflection

Fr. Ed Smith

2 Kings 4:8-11, 14-16a; Romans 6:3-4, 8-11; Matthew 10:37-42

A few quotes from Jesus in our Gospel for this weekend: "Whoever loves anything more than me is not worthy of me," and "whoever does not take up his cross and follow me is not worthy of me," and He continues "whoever this" and whoever that," until we read the word "whoever" 10 times in this short passage of St. Matthew's Gospel. What is going on here? Why so many? Perhaps this word is reiterated so often in these verses in order to wake us up to the fact that we are the "whoever" that Jesus is talking about. WE must be ready to leave what might seem the most important things in life in order to follow Him, as He left His home in Nazareth in obedience to His Father's will. We must be willing to take up our crosses and follow Jesus in order to be His disciples, even when they seem so heavy for us. We even need to be ready to lose our life for His sake in order to find it, even though the last thing most people want to do is die. These are a lot of demands on us, the "whoevers" to whom Jesus is speaking. But, in the end, Jesus has high expectations for us: He wants us to live out our faith each day, to be unafraid to bring others to Him, and to embrace Him as the center of our lives. This means making choices, day after day, that bring us closer and closer to Him. And what is our "reward" that He speaks of at the end of this passage? It is a life with meaning, hope, peace and love. It is the "reward" of a job well done. It is the vision of an eternity of joy in the presence of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Maybe, knowing this, we are a bit more willing to be the "whoever" Jesus is talking about today, and embrace the life He describes, because He wants only the best for us, and is ready to give it to us, now and forever!

Meet Fr. Stephen Hughes

The following excerpt is reprinted with permission from The Catholic Telegraph's article, "New Priest for the Archdiocese" To read about all the newly ordained priests please read the whole article cited below this excerpt.

I grew up with four brothers and two sisters in Trenton, OH, where we attended Holy Name Parish until we moved to Champaign County. There, we attended Sacred Heart Parish in New Carlisle. Home-schooled until eighth grade, I went to Graham High School, Bowling Green State University, then the Air Force for three years before entering seminary.

I had to think about where I was heading in life after graduation, which is when I seriously began to consider the priesthood. Through formation, my spiritual director, Father Sunberg, has been a mentor for me. Now, I look forward to celebrating the Mass and to bringing the Sacraments to the faithful.

I enjoy praying the Rosary, and in my spare time, I like to read, play board games and video games, and watch sci-fi and fantasy films.

Thank you for all your prayers, for both myself and all seminarians discerning priesthood.

Everyday Stewardship

I was recently at a Catholic conference and had a conversation with someone living in the thick of Hollywood culture. He was Catholic and spoke of how hard it was to live out his faith amid tremendous temptation and negativity toward religion. He spoke about how going to daily Mass helped to keep him centered and stay strong in his faith. He was a great witness to living out one's faith in the face of disbelief.

One thing that he told me stood out above all the rest. He spoke of his engagement to his fiancé and how important it was to him that God was a major part of their relationship and their lives as individuals as well. He told me he said something to her like, "If you don't love Jesus more than you love me, this is never going to work." What an amazing and truly moving witness!

Songs and books are written about the intense longing one human being can have for another. We can describe another as meaning everything to us. We speak of wanting to offer our complete selves to our beloved. However, true love is about more than wanting to be with that person. It is about wanting that person to know a love even greater than theirs: the love of God. No love can last without God. My Hollywood friend knew this to be the case. He showed his true love for his wife-to-be by sharing more than himself – he shared the very One who created love.

Question & Answers

Mass Celebrated Around the World

Question:

Is the Catholic Mass really celebrated the same throughout the whole world?

Answer:

One of the truisms of the Catholic Faith is that "wherever you go in the world, the Mass is the same." In fact, the answer to this question is both "yes" and "no."

On the one hand, the essential elements of the Roman Rite are the same. The structure of the Mass as it is presented in the Roman Missal is consistent and this is one of the beauties of belonging to a liturgical tradition.

On the other hand, however, there are elements of celebrations that can vary depending on the country or even local region you might be in. For example, in certain parts of the world, certain feasts and solemnities are celebrated on different days (even here in the United States the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord can be celebrated on Thursday of the Sixth Week of Easter or it may take the place of the Seventh Sunday of Easter, depending on what diocese you are in). Whether it is the use of certain liturgical colors, local celebrations of regional saints, special seasonal blessings of crops or produce, or the use of dance and processions all demonstrate a sort of organic variety that can exist even within our established liturgical tradition. While we always respect what is essential to the rite, such local variations and traditions are very much in keeping with the vision of liturgical renewal and adaption envisioned by the Second Vatican Council's Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy (nos. 37-40). ?
