Proverbs 31:10-13, 19-20, 30-31; 1 Thessalonians 5:1-6; Matthew 25:14-31

A worthy wife...a thief in the night...and a lazy servant! At first glance our three readings for the liturgy this weekend seem to have been pulled haphazardly out of a hat. It appears to be a mixed bag of unrelated topics. But of course it's not. The readings blend together in a marvelous way to teach us about how to live life well. Let's pull these readings apart for a moment: We are to be people of loving service [1st reading], who are aware and ready for God [2nd reading], and who use the gifts we have been given with courage and ingenuity [Gospel reading]. All of this is done for the glory of God and the care of His people. The beautiful image of the "worthy wife" from the Book of Proverbs reveals the importance of serving the practical needs of one another in love. It is God's Wisdom that teaches us to know how to do this well. St. Paul's First letter to the Thessalonians [one of the earliest written books of the New Testament] reminds us that, no matter when Christ comes for us, we need to be ready, alert and "sober", meaning that we are paying attention. Again, it is God's Wisdom that helps us to know what is worth waiting for, and what to focus on in life as we wait. Finally, in the Gospel, Jesus graphically shows that we need to work hard on our spiritual life and continue going forward. Our lives should be moving toward God and one another. We take what we are given [and we are all given something unique to us, thus the three different amounts given to the three servants] and invest our energy, time and care so that we may become the people God intends. Standing still out of selfishness or fear [like the third servant] leads us to waste the precious gift of our life given to us by God. We make ourselves poorer. And once again, it is God's Wisdom that inspires and strengthens us in our decisions of how to move forward in our spiritual life. So, building on last week's readings, our theme comes down to the importance of God's Wisdom, our response in service, our readiness for His entry into our lives, and our part in helping to build His kingdom by using the gifts He has given us. This is a wonderful way to live...and for the Christian, the only way!

Baptism Prep Classes

All sacraments require preparation. Baptism Prep Class is for expectant parents who want to have their child baptized. (If your child is already here, congrats. We will still help you prepare for their Baptism with this class.) Once you have completed the paperwork from the class, you will be able to set the date for your child's Baptism. Baptism prep is required for additional children if it's been 4 or more years since your last class or there is a change in pastor. Contact: baptism@smoy.org to sign up for a class. Please provide your phone number when signing up. You can register for the class anytime during your pregnancy. Baptisms prep will not be held in January and July.

Question & Answers

Anointing of the Sick

Question:

If it isn't only for people who are dying, when should someone receive the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick?

Answer:

One of the unfortunate realities in the Church today is that so few people understand the meaning and value of the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, largely because so many people still mistakenly think of this sacrament as "Last Rites" or "Extreme Unction."

In his life and ministry, Jesus healed the sick. In this sacrament, the Church continues the healing mission of Jesus and, in hope, prays that God will grant healing to the person who is suffering. But even if there is no physical healing, the sacrament offers spiritual healing through the Holy Spirit's gifts of peace and courage. And so, anyone who is living with serious illness (including emotional or psychological illness) and the elderly are encouraged to celebrate this sacrament when it is needed.

The ritual for Anointing of the Sick does also include special prayers and blessings for those who are facing death, including viaticum (communion given to the dying, trusting that the Lord Jesus will be their companion along the way, as they make their final journey).

What Remains

When my grandfather died, my parents, siblings, and I were left with the question: what's to become of the house?

Anyone who has inherited property knows that it's not simply a matter of assuming ownership of a plot of land upon which sits four walls and a roof. Those four walls and a roof usually contain memories and objects — an enormous volume of both, in the case of my grandfather. When they're left to you, you have to sift through them, the memories and the objects, and with each one you have to think: Is it worth it? Do I keep it? Will I need it?

And slowly, painfully, you disassemble the physical existence of the person who lived here. You accept, with a pang, that most of it must be given away or discarded. You cry when you bag up the clothes to take to Goodwill. You can't even bear to look when they break the piano into a hundred pieces and throw it in a dumpster, realizing that no one wants or has a use for something that was once so precious.

But when you come upon a rosary that was used so many times it has begun to fall apart, you don't even think twice before keeping it, and not because you need the rosary. You need what it means. You need what it reminds you of.

When all is said and done, each of us will be called before our master to settle accounts, just as my grandfather was.

"Where are the gifts I gave you? What remains of the fortune to which I entrusted you?" he will ask us. "What have you done with the peace? What have you done with the love? What have you done with the mercy?"

"You yourselves know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief at night."

1 Thessalonians 5:2

Everyday Stewardship

I remember watching a television show about a high school that dug up a time capsule that students had buried twenty-five years earlier. They had buried it with the purpose of showing others many years later the trends of the day and how student life was at that time. It was a fun exercise and everyone—the current students as well as those now grown—laughed at the clothing styles, corny photos, and lack of technology from years ago.

I wonder how the former students felt about how they had grown in those twenty-five years. How many of them realized their high school dreams? Did they find their purpose in this world and feel fulfilled in life? Did they use the talents and gifts God gave them to really make a difference in the world?

We have all been given talents and gifts by God to be cultivated and offered back to him and those around us for his glory. As time has passed, hopefully we have taken seriously our stewardship of these gifts. But sometimes out of fear, misunderstanding, or even apathy, we have taken one or more of our gifts and buried them, hiding them away from others and stifling all growth. This is no way to honor God and certainly not a path to fulfillment in life. If we have anything buried in our backyard we might do well to dig it back up, clean it up, and begin building upon it. Like a time capsule, those things will not be buried forever. One day the giver of that gift will ask what you have done with it. When that day comes, I pray you don't need to find a shovel.
